

CORE TRAINING

Homeland Security Training

The threat of terrorism demands a new level of commitment and readiness inside the world of law enforcement. This means greater preparedness, more knowledge, and increased training requirements are needed. Our Homeland One Core Curriculum will put you ahead of the learning curve, meeting your needs before they become mandates. The curriculum is progressive, with each course serving as the stepping-stone for the next.

  Homeland One Awareness Level, Part 2 of 2: CIP: Applying Countermeasures

 947-1017

In recent years, it has become increasingly evident that public safety organizations are vulnerable to a variety of threats--natural, accidental, and man-made. The critical infrastructures first responders depend upon are also vulnerable. Applying countermeasures is the key to protecting critical infrastructures such as personnel and cyber property. Hear what experts say about the importance of this process and how to do it in your community. Based on ODP guidelines.

  Homeland One Awareness Level, Part 1 of 2: Self-Protection Measures for WMD Incidents

947-1010

This program provides first responders with self-protection measures for WMD and hazardous materials events. The course includes the identification and use of all levels of HazMat gear and provides response procedures for WMD events or incidents.

SUPPORT

  Calibre Presents Roll Call: Duty Weapons Safe at Home

 057-0205

 Police officers are well aware of their responsibilities when it comes to protecting their duty handguns from negligent or improper use. Too often, however, many officers seem to forget or ignore these lessons once they arrive home from work and cross the threshold into the safety of their homes. This looks at ways to assist officers so they may succeed not only in keeping themselves and those around them safe on the streets, but in their homes as well.

  ID Crime, Part 2 of 2: Investigating ID Crimes

 160-0205

 Identity theft is the fastest growing crime in America according to the Federal Trade Commission. In 2003 alone, more than 9.9 million Americans were victims of identity theft. Because of the broad range of crimes facilitated by identity theft and the pervasiveness of the problem, the federal government has enacted laws that establish what constitutes identity theft, created a central clearinghouse to assist victims and law enforcement at all levels, and redefined the meaning of the term "victim." Part two looks at the role of the investigator and the federal resources available to assist in the investigation.

 Going for the Green, Part 2 of 2: Secret to Grant Success

038-2006

Knowing how to design and develop a potential grant proposal is essential to achieving grant success. Part two of this series continues to uncover the correct procedures of formatting grant proposals and applications, choosing writing styles, and learning to locate potential grant making organizations. You will amass the knowledge required to successfully design, write and submit grant proposals and applications. (A supplemental workbook that applies to this series is included. It is not tested.)

  Responding to Snipers and Shootings

163-0001

This program will give first responders insight into what to expect when encountering a sniper attack and attacks where there are mass casualties. Tactical methods of will be reviewed, comparing the first widely known mass casualty sniper attack: The University of Texas Tower in 1966, to the recent sniper attacks in Prince William County, Va.

  Legal Update: United States v. Knights

165-0006

 In 2001, the United States Supreme Court decided the case of United States v. Knights. In this case, the Court sought to answer the question; is a warrantless search of a probationer's home by a police officer, supported by reasonable suspicion and authorized by a condition of probation, reasonable within the meaning of the Fourth Amendment?

CLASSIC

 Roll Call: Drugged Driving

176-2177

You stop a driver obviously under the influence, but are you able to recognize the differences between the influence of drugs versus alcohol? Sgt. Bruce R. Talbot provides tips for Drugged Driver Detection for Patrol Officers. Also, Naperville, Ill., has developed an Elderly Services Team that has many aspects and greatly benefits the community. Captain Paul Shafer shows us what it is and how it works. Join hosts Sgt. Elizabeth Brantner-Smith and Officer Carl Duke for these segments and more.

  Domestic Violence: Identifying the Primary Aggressor

179-0134

 Responding to a domestic disturbance is one of the most common calls that patrol officers will have. The challenge can be identifying the primary aggressor. This program, produced in cooperation with the San Diego Attorney's Office, examines several steps that will help you determine who is the primary aggressor.
