

CORE LETN Special Report: TTY

405-0505

 Most calls into a dispatch center come from people using a standard telephone to verbally report an emergency but in some cases, a dispatcher will hear only tones in place of words. It may be because the caller is using a TTY--or text telephone--because he or she is unable to speak. Federal mandates and your desire to help people in need makes it critical for you to know how to properly answer these calls. This program explains some of the different devices used and how to properly communicate with TTY users in need of emergency help. Child Abuse, Part 1 of 3: Responding to Child Abuse Incidents

888-0221

Child abuse is an emotionally draining call for law enforcement. Join us as we learn what evidence to look for and how to successfully collect it. Discover the differences in dealing with children and adults in these situations. Finally, understand the link between critical incident stress management and what an officer must cope with.

 Roll Call Confined Area Survival Tactics, Part 2 of 4

176-2169

Our series on confined area tactics continues with Phil Messina of Modern Warrior. In this installment, we become acquainted with the effective use of time, environmental weapons, and empty-hand procedures that lead to success.

 CSI Forensics Enhancing of Partial Impressions of Blood

160-0009

A crime scene can yield numerous clues. Although impressions in blood can be identified, the enhancement of partial impressions can mean the difference between an unsolved case and breaking it wide open. This episode of CSI Forensics explores a few techniques for enhancing partial impression in blood, and a number of well-established and cutting-edge techniques are both explained and demonstrated.

SUPPORT Calibre Presents Roll Call: Officer Dragged

057-0505

 Working close to motor vehicles every day can lead to complacency. Remember, you are dealing with a 3,000-pound weapon. The driver of that weapon can drag and seriously injure you simply by stepping on the gas. Hear from an officer who survived being dragged and learn how to avoid being dragged yourself. Legal Update Major Supreme Court Decisions 2004

165-0505

 In 2004, the U.S. Supreme Court handed down several decisions related to law enforcement. Is a suspect required to identify himself to an officer of the law? How have the search and seizure laws changed? This program examines some of these cases and how the rulings will affect you, the street officer.
 Legal Update: City of Indianapolis v Edmond: Are Checkpoints for Drug Interdiction Purposes Constitutional?

165-0003

In 2000, the U.S. Supreme Court decided the case of City of Indianapolis v. Edmond, ruling that traffic checkpoints that stop motor vehicles without cause, to look for evidence of criminal drug violations, are unlawful under the Fourth Amendment. Join us for this installment of Legal Update as we discuss the Edmond case and its impact on law enforcement.
 Digital Crime Multiple-Scene Search and Seizure in Computer Crime

152-0003

This program outlines procedures for searching and seizing evidence from multiple locations, including search warrants for electronic evidence, and recognition and specific identification of potential electronic evidence.

HOMELAND SECURITY Homeland One Preparedness Level, Part 2 of 2: Protection of Potential and Actual Crime Scenes

947-1107

 This second program of a two-part series deals with procedures for the protection and preservation of crime scenes at a WMD event. It specifically addresses protection of physical evidence and dealing with witnesses or bystanders who may have information regarding the incident or event.
