A+	Electronic Control Devices	111-0510	30 minute video plus course materials	Electronic control devices are one of the most effective and controversial tools at an officer's disposal. Knowing how and when to use them is only part of the process. This course examines when an electronic control devices should and should not be used as well as where they fit into the use of force continuum.
A+	Inside the Breach, Part 2	111-0108	30 minute video plus course materials	The close-quarters environment represents the most common and the most dangerous environment faced by law enforcement. Compressed distances, compressed time frames, and rapid decisions are the deadly characteristics of the "typical" environments faced by patrol officers every day when they make contact with suspects closer than 25 yards. This course is designed to provide an understanding of skills needed for maximum performance under the demands of close-quarters situations.
A+	Mentoring Skills	111-1007	30 minute video plus course materials	This course discusses what mentoring is from a law enforcement perspective and how critical mentoring is to the development of new law enforcement officers. The importance of leadership skills required of supervisors is discussed, as well as how supervisors can help to motivate subordinate officers in order to improve their performance. Additionally, steps that supervisors may take to correct those behaviors are explained.
A+	Tactical Patrol: Active Killer	163-0014	30 minute video plus course materials	While operating as a police officer, there may come a time when you are required to immediately respond to an ongoing critical incident at a school, workplace, or other environment. Should the incident involve a person or persons who are barricaded and/or holding innocent people as hostages, the established law enforcement guidelines should be employed. This course examines methods of response and how you can effectively put an end to such an incident.
A+	Tactical Patrol: Pursuit Phases and Technologies	163-0013	30 minute video plus course materials	This course covers two main topics. First, the phases of a pursuit are discussed along with the activities and decisions that occur during each phase. Second, since the goal of each pursuit is safely stopping the fleeing vehicle, current and potential vehicle-stopping technologies are discussed.
A+	Identity Crimes, Part 1 of 2: The Victim	160-0105	30 minute video plus course materials	Identity theft is the fastest growing crime in America. Financial institutions, businesses, and individuals have lost upward of $48 billion to fraudulent charges. In today's information-driven world, criminals have an unlimited number of tools that allow them to access personal information. Part one of this two-part series looks at the victim: who is targeted, what it takes to recover from this crime, and how to prevent becoming a victim.
A+	Roll Call: Pre-Attack Behavioral Indicators	057-4010	30 minute video plus course materials	Have you ever been on a call when "gut instinct" told you that an assault was about to occur, and sure enough it did? That feeling was not created out of thin air; you subconsciously recognized "pre-incident indicators" the subject was giving off just before he or she attacked you. This course shows you how to recognize indicators that an assault is about to occur so you can plan options and strategies for defense.
A+	Large Vehicle Bombs: Post Blast Investigation, Part 1	162-0001	30 minute video plus course materials	This multi-part series investigates large vehicle explosive devices such as those used in Oklahoma City in 1995 and the World Trade Center bombing in 1993. We attend the FBI's Post Blast Investigation School held at Fallon Naval Air Station in Nevada. Part one starts with an introduction to crime scene management. We examine the advantages and limitations of forensic science, search warrant requirements, crime scene sketching, and preserving crime scene integrity. Future programs will deal with the preliminary survey, crime scene behavior, proper packaging of evidence, and crime scene documentation.
A+	HazMat, Part 1: First Responders	179-0088	30 minute video plus course materials	What most peace officers do not know about HazMat can get them hurt or killed. Since this is not an option, LETN is offering a five-part series on HazMat that covers everything from first responder to high explosives. Cpl. Bob Clements of the Idaho State Police, the recognized leader in HazMat training and information, host this vital and informative series. Part one deals with HazMat for first responders.
A+	Medical Detectives: Body of Evidence	184-0128	30 minute video plus course materials	Only one day after Mark Fair and his fiancée, Karla Brown, moved into their new home, Karla was found brutally murdered. This course focuses on the techniques applied by an FBI criminal profiler and two forensic odontologists: Dr. Homer Campbell, a computer imaging pioneer, and Dr. Lowell Levine of the Ted Bundy trial fame. They use forensic psychology to define the killer; image enhancement technology on a crime scene photo to reveal bite marks on the victim's body; and forensic odontology to link the couple's new next-door neighbor to Karla's death
A+	Terrorism, Intelligence, and the USA PATRIOT Act (USAPA)	161-0002	30 minute video plus course materials	This course provides law enforcement personnel insight into intelligence gathering under the U.S. Patriot Act and how the federal guidelines affect those methods used by state and local law enforcement.
