NEW A+ Communications: Answering Suicidal Callers
405-0705
Many 9-1-1 telecommunicators in the United States may not have training or experience handling suicidal callers. They may develop their techniques while on the job through trial-and-error, but not have the benefit of formal training. This training course will enable you to benefit from others' experiences in handling a suicidal caller. This course dispels common suicide myths, teaches you how to assess the risk of a possible suicide call, and demonstrates proper techniques for handling that call.

Responding to Child Abuse Incidents, Part 3 of 3: Sexual Abuse
888-0231
There are important distinctions between sexual and physical abuse. How can you tell the difference? What are the indicators of both and is it important to make the distinction? The final part in our series answers these questions.

A+ Roll Call: Confined Area Survival Tactics, Part 4 of 4
176-2174
Phil Messina of Modern Warrior continues his training in confined area survival tactics with increasingly difficult situations and technical weapon defense techniques and disarmament. From standing in the aisle to belted in a seat, learn how to use physio-kinetics and positive time-framing to create a positive outcome in a confined area.

A+ CSI: Photographing and Casting Impression Evidence
160-0011
Footwear and tire tread evidence is some of the most often ignored evidence at crime scenes. Correctly photographing and casting impression evidence is vital to effectively conduct laboratory comparisons. This episode of CSI Forensics takes the investigator through actual cases outlining the steps to properly photograph and cast impression evidence found at crime scenes.

NEW A+ Calibre Presents Roll Call: Armored and Dangerous
057-0705
The North Hollywood Bank shootout was an example of a dangerous trend confronting law enforcement. Bandits wearing body armor and brandishing assault rifles are becoming more common; they are turning up in cities and towns all across the country. We'll show you how two communities responded when faced with desperate criminals who were armored and dangerous.

NEW A+ Interview and Interrogation, Part 2 of 4: Getting the Confession
160-0705
Conducting interviews and interrogations is the most time-consuming and difficult phase of an investigation. A successful interrogator must acquire and develop a wide range of skills: he has to become part confessor, part attorney, and part psychologist, and he has to know when to assume the role of each. This program looks at some of the techniques that will enable you to become a successful interrogator.

NEW A+ FIRSTaid: The "Bandaid" Approach
070-0705
Would you be prepared to administer first aid if you were first to arrive at a medical scene? If not, this program will provide a basic understanding of medical conditions and procedures you may encounter in the field. We'll discuss general first aid and show you how to recognize injuries and what you can do to help.

A+ Legal Update: Kyllo v. United States
165-0007
In this case the court sought to answer the question: Does the use of a thermal-imaging device aimed at a private home from a public street to detect relative amounts of heat within the home constitute a search within the meaning of the Fourth Amendment? Find out what the court ruled in this Legal Update.

A+ Digital Crime: Storage Forensics Fundamentals
152-0005
This program introduces officers to the most common source of evidence in computer-related crime investigations: storage media. Officers will gain a basic familiarity with storage technology and apply these concepts to analysis of seized hard drives and recognition of diverse storage media.

HOMELAND SECURITY

A+ Homeland One Preparedness Level: Scene Control Procedures for WMD Incidents
947-1109
This course explains the process of protecting physical evidence at the scene of a WMD event, and includes isolation of the danger area and recognizing that an incident may be a crime scene which needs to be preserved for investigators.
